Project management is a distinct professional discipline with its own body of knowledge, skills, tools and techniques. It involves managing a project from inception to completion and the successful attainment of the project’s objectives.

The Master of Science (Project Management) and the Graduate Certificate in Project Management will provide you with the knowledge and skills necessary for performing the role of a project manager in any field and any sector including construction, engineering, health, education, commerce, information technology, research and development. It is suitable for people from a variety of employment backgrounds.

You will learn the processes and techniques associated with project management, including cost, time, quality, risk, communication, human resources and procurement management. The courses will also develop your skills in leadership, team management and motivation.
